Intensive Information

Intensives are mandatory for all students. All intensives begin at 9:00 a.m. on the first day and conclude at 11:30 a.m. on the final day. Students should plan travel arrangements to accommodate these times. Those using Aquinas provided lodging may arrive the day before intensives begin, and stay in the lodging that evening.

Registration Information

Before each semester, students meet with their academic advisor to discuss their progress in the program. After the meeting, the advisor removes the registration lock on the student's Populi account. Students then register for the semester through Populi. Students should be attentive to course and section numbers when registering. The section numbers for each cohort always remain the same (Ex: HOM-D603-20 or HOM-D604-20).

Registration must be completed by the end of the registration period. Registrations not submitted by the end of the registration period are assessed a late registration fee. Students should reference the Academic Calendar for specific registration dates.

Electives, Thesis, & Continuation Status

Students should discuss elective and thesis coursework with their advisor before completing the sequenced DMin coursework.

Students must register for continuation status for any Fall or Spring semester in which they are not registered for classes at Aquinas. For elective classes taken outside of Aquinas, students must follow the appropriate transfer credit procedure as outlined by the Registrar's Office.

Students must enroll in and complete Thesis Project Research I and II in order to graduate. Students may take these courses in one semester or break them up between two semesters.

Billing & Payment Information

Students are responsible for all tuition and fees each semester. Due dates are posted in Populi. Students should always check their account and invoices for accuracy. After the account has been invoiced, students must make full payment or begin a payment plan by the due date. The student will be removed from the course until payment arrangements are made.

Aquinas does not bill third parties. However, if the student's employer or another individual or organization is paying, students may send them a link provided in Populi that allows the outside party to pay the invoice. Students are ultimately responsible for the payment of all tuition and fees.
